About TambraPlace:

TambraPlace (tambraplace.org), Moore County’s transitional home for young women and young men, recently received a $284,000 zero-percent loan from the NC Housing Finance Agency to begin construction of a new home for young women in our community who have aged out of foster care who would otherwise be homeless. Over the past seven years, TambraPlace has served over twenty youth, providing them with free room and board, much-needed community assistance, and support through inter-agency vocational rehabilitation, mentoring, financial assistance, and other services. TambraPlace currently operates two youth transitional homes, one for young men and another for young women, and needs community support to build the new home for young women on our West End property. Link here for coverage of this from The Pilot. The new build will replace our existing, older facility, our young women’s home, and we will convert the old home to our Crisis Center, which will have offices for the organization’s work, as well as two rooms to provide emergency, short-term, stays.

TambraPlace could not operate without the generous sponsorships and donations of area corporations, businesses, places of worship, and private donors, and our organization is profoundly grateful to everyone who has contributed both time, money, and goods over the years.

About the upcoming fundraising event:

Now, TambraPlace is excited to announce its premiere fundraising gala event: 1925 Gala – The Jazz Speakeasy Event, which will take place on Saturday, October 25, 2025, from 6:00-9:30 pm onboard the Aberdeen Carolina & Western Event Train, located near the Pinehurst clubhouse off of Beulah Hill Rd before Morganton Rd.

Leaning into the interior train's ambiance which celebrates all things art deco and 1920s vintage, the night will be a trip back in time 100 years. The evening will celebrate with live jazz music, ladies and gentlemen's flapper-era costume contest, silent auction featuring high quality goods and travel experiences, a wine pull, door prizes, storytelling, games, fun, and fellowship. There will be heavy hors d'oeuvres, drink tickets, a cash bar of wines and beers, as well as complimentary soft drinks – all for an incredibly good cause.

What we are asking from Donors:

The gala will feature several fund-raising as well as fun opportunities. It will feature a women's and men's 1920s' costume fashion contest, games, door prizes, a silent auction, and a wine pull. TambdaPlace is looking for the donation of quality goods to offer for these events. Donors will receive recognition in the evening's program, their name and/or logo on a card attached to the item, and a verbal announcement of their contribution on the night.
